The main content area features a large banner image of a building with palm trees, overlaid with the text 'Introducing One of the top fifty commerce colleges in India'. Below the banner is a circular portrait of Sivanath Sastri and a text box containing a biographical note: 'Sivanath Sastri (as spelled by himself, but also spelled as Shivanath Sastri, Shibi Nath Sastri, Shivanath Sastri, Shivanath Shastri) (1847-1919) was a scholar, religious reformer, educator, writer and historian. He played an active role in the society of his times and kept a wonderful record of events but for which it would have been difficult to know and understand his turbulent age. His views have, occasionally, been criticized. He was not merely a detached historian but also an active participant of the age. The college is christened in his name because of his momentous contribution towards the enlightenment of the women in Bengal. His pioneering contribution towards the widening of social awareness of the women has formed the very foundation of the college. The College cherishes his contribution to that end by promoting education to women belonging to different segments of society.'
