

Programme Specific Outcome (under CBCS Curriculum)

Department of Economics

Course: B.A./B.Sc

Subject: Economics General

1. Economics is a subject that deals with limited resources and unlimited wants. The students having Economics General will be able to understand the principles of microeconomics.
2. The learners will gather knowledge on how the microeconomics differs from macroeconomics, focusing broadly on money and banking system.
3. The students will be acquainted with the theory of development propounded by eminent Economists and also its relevance to tackle the problem of developing economies.
4. Without Indian economy, the programme remains incomplete. The programme successfully delivers the lesson on Indian Economy.
5. The students will be acquainted with the strategies of the rural development and strategies adapted thereof.
6. Economic History of India in the British colonial period is of immense importance in order to understand the present Indian economy and the programme will throw light on the historical perspective.
7. The learners will also gather knowledge on Public Finance through this programme.
8. The learners will also be acquainted with the basic concept of Entrepreneurial development.
9. The students will also be acquainted with the how to carry on a field survey including analysis of data and writing a report on the survey.