PROGRAMME OUTCOME

If any assessment is made about the net outcome of this graduation course then it would soon become clear that the objective is completely achieved after the students undergo the same. They become absolutely eligible for the professional world either in the service sector or in the capacity of professionals in different fields. Armed with the systematic knowledge and orientations based on the multi-dimensional courses the students acquire an immensely useful perception about the real world around them. So as new citizens who are capable of addressing the issues facing their society they become competent enough to take up any responsibility in the professional world. As students of humanities they become an integral part of the society's available human resources.